David,

Following up on the email below, as we have not been able to confirm the call today at 330, we unfortunately now have a conflict. To keep things moving, please feel free to suggest some times later this week or early next week for a call (Thursday afternoon doesn't work, but Friday should). Also, please confirm that the time for the call next week with the technical folks.

Thanks. Have a good Memorial Day weekend if we don't talk.

Matt
